Quality woods and inherent value are the important corner stones of our Premium Series. Allow us to demonstrate how guitars are able to manifest sophistication. Introducing the Lakewood custom shop, one might well begin with selection of the relevant tone woods.
If there is one instrument you could fall in love with for its scent alone, it is the Lakewood A-36 Premium. Beautiful cypress was used for the back and sides, and its natural essential oils give the guitar its distinctive aroma. Highly regarded as a traditional tonewood for flamenco guitars, cypress also proves completely convincing for steel strings when paired with a European spruce top. The instrument has an astonishingly fast response and projects bass, mids and treble with effortless confidence. Together, all these elements make the A-36 Premium a small, lightweight and refined jewel. So anyone who followed their nose from the very beginning was definitely on the right track. Because this guitar is every bit as precious in sound as it is in appearance.
